

Hello Friends,

Well COVID-19 is the gift that keeps on giving – bad news. I hope we all are still standing in a few months. In Texas things are getting back to normal, but there are still many who are not coming out anytime soon. There will be a new normal, but who knows what that will look like.

In the meantime, like you all, we will continue to do the work we have and get ready for when things resume - hoping it is sooner than later. We are adding new parts to our offering and sometime soon you all will need these.

Book recommendations:

Fiction: Deep South: Four Seasons on Back Roads by Paul Theroux. An international travel writer visits his own country.

Fiction (Historical): Wars of the Roses Series by Conn Iggulden (4 books total). The reiterating of the wars of 15th century England. His other series on the Roman Empire and Genghis Khan are fabulous as well.

Business: Ego is the Enemy by Ryan Holiday. I wish I had read this book 30 years ago, even though I knew it all then.

Quote: “Never argue with a fool, onlookers may not be able to tell the difference.” – Mark Twain
